The council members are James El. Felton, Jr., left, who has close to 500 employees in his maintenance and services businesses; Edward Holder, center, Chairman of the council and owner of the duty-free concession for the Newark Airport and a gift shop and Robert Crews, right, owner of book stores at Newark and at LaGaurdia Airports. With the council members are Gustav Heningburg, standing, President of the business management firm of Gustav Heningburg & Associates and Henry F. Henderson, President of the "high tech" firm, Henderson Industries and the only Black Commissioner of the New York and New Jersey Port Authority.

Bush Out Polls Ferraro

The USA Today polls show Vice President George Bush out polling Democratic Vice Presidential nominee Geraldine Ferraro. Bush is leading Ferraro 57 percent to 31 percent among all voters.

Suprisingly only 37 percent of women voters think Ferraro, the first female on a major party national ticket, would be a better president than Bush.

On abortion, Bush favors abortion if the woman is raped. He has tried to avoid the abortion controversy that has dogged Ferraro for weeks. Bush said "I don't feel comfortable getting into this particularly at the time, because no matter what we do, somebody is going to thrust us." Ferraro was equally reluctant to continue the abortion issue.

The abortion issue causes Ferraro to slip in the polls plus her pass financial arrangement concerning her pass reelection to congress and her husband's unwillingness to disclose his financial record in the beginning.

This brought nationwide suspicion concerning their honesty and character due to Ferraro husband real estate dealings.

Breaking Barriers For People W/Disabilites

The greatest obstacles faced by people with disabilities often result from society's good intentions and misconceptions.

A disability is only one aspect of a person, not the total definition of an individual. That's why we prefer the phrase "A person with a disability," rather than a "disabled

People with disabilities are living fuller, more independent lives than ever before. Part of MDA'S mission is to help enhance their lives as well as increase the public's understanding of the important roles people with disabilities play in society.

Support For Summer Reading Program A Winner

Several Tacoma businesses joined together to help fund the 1984 Summer Reading Club program of the Tacoma Public Library and make it the most successful ever.

B. Dalton Booksellers, Famous Amos Cookies, the Tacoma Stars Soccer Team, and the Tacoma Tigers Baseball Team contributed donations or prizes to provide incentives for reading in the annual summer program at the Library.

Along with the Friends of the Tacoma Public Library, the funds and prizes encouraged 2,000 children, enrolled in "Readers of the Round Table," to read over 53,000 books over an 8-week period.

The purpose of the annual summer reading club is to encourage schoolage and preschool children to continue reading during the months of summer vacation. Also, it is hoped that the children will develop the habit of using the Library and its resources.

Susan Gallinger, Assistant Director for Public service of the Tacoma Public Library, receives a $500 contribution from Teresa Thane, representing B. Dalton Booksellers, for the 1984 Summer Reading club.

HAVE YOU BELIEVE OUR REPORT?
SERIES #45
ISAIAH 53: 1&2

Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

For he shall grow up before him as a root out of dry ground.

He hath no form nor comiliness: and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

WORDS OF WISDOM
SAMUEL 19

And Saul, spake to Jonathan his son, and to all his servants, that they should kill David.

But Jonathan Saul's son delighted much in David: and Jonathan told David, saying, Saul my father seeketh to kill thee: now therefore, I pray thee, take heed to thyself until the morning, and abide in a secret place, and hide thyself:

And I will go out and stand beside my father in the field, where thou art, and I will commune with my father of thee; and what I see, that I will tell thee.

And Jonathan spake good of David unto Saul his father, and said unto him, Let not the king sin against his servant, against David; because he hath not sinned against thee, and because his works have been to thee-ward very good:

For he did put his life in his hand, and slew the Philistine, and the Lord wrought a great salvation for all Israel: thou sawest it, and didst rejoice: wherefore then wilt thou sin against innocent blood, to slay David without cause?

And Saul hearkened unto the voice of Jonathan: and Saul sware, As the Lord liveth , he shall not be slain.

And Jonathan called David, and Jonathan shewed him all those things. And Jonathan brought David to Saul, and he was in his presence as in times past.

And there was war again: and David went out, and fought with the Philistines, and slew them with a great slaughter; and the fled from him.

And the evil spirit from the Lord was upon Saul, as he sat in his house with his javelin in his hand: and David played with his hand.

And Saul sought to smite David even to the wall with the javelin; but he slipped away out of Saul's presence, and he smote the javelin into the wall: and David fled, and escaped that night.

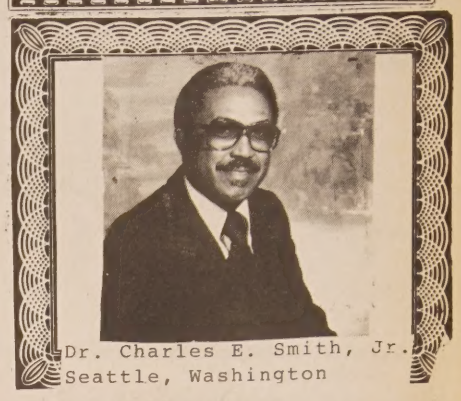
"The Doctors Prescription



Dr. Charles E. Smith, Jr.
Seattle, Washington

The Heart Kardia

"KARDIA" is the Greek word for heart. Thayer's Lexicon defines it as "the seat and center of all physical and spiritual life, the soul or mind, as it is the fountain and seat of the thoughts, passions, desires, appetites, affections, purposes, endeavors."

Paul wrote to the Ephesians, that they should obey Christ "in singleness of your heart," (Eph. 6:5). The Greek word here for "singleness", and sincerity is "haplotes" which means "simplicity, sincerity, mental honesty, single-hearted faith in Christ, without self-seeking." The phrase might also be rendered "obey Christ with honest hearts."

As the heart is the seat of intelligence, Paul prayed for the Ephesian Chuch that "the eyes of your heart may be enlightened in order that you may know the hope to which he has called you, the riches of his glorious inheritance in the saints, and the incomparably great power for us who believe," (Eph. 1:18-19a).

The Bible further tells us that the heart may be purified, (Acts 15:9); may be sanctified, (1 Pet.3:15); be made firm that one might be "blameless and holy in the presence of our God and Father," (1 Thess. 3:13).

The heart may be very wicked. The Gospel of John speaks of hearts that were deadened, (12:40). The Greek word for deadened is "poroo" which means "to harden by covering with a callus," and also to "become dull," or "lose the power of understanding." Hence, the wicked heart may lose the power of understanding spiritual things, and become utterly impoverished.

The evil heart is also described as lacking in uprightousness, (Acts 8:21); being an evil heart that departs from God, (Heb. 3:12); an unrepentant heart, (Ro. 2:5). The Book of Hebrews urges people not to harden their hearts, (Heb. 3:8). The word translated "harden" is "sklaruno" which also means "to render obstinate or stubborn," so the rendering could be, "let not your hearts be stubborn." Jesus was grieved at the hardness (as above "poroo") of people's hearts, (Mk. 3:5).

On the other hand it is satisfying to know that christians may live with their hearts purified by faith, (Acts 15:9). They may have a heart that does not condemn them, (1 John 3:21). In this verse four modern versions have the word "conscience" for heart, rendering it "may have a conscience that does not condemn them."

Our heart is our innermost being, the area where the Holy Spirit speaks to us and deals with us. This, God desires to keep pure and holy, for his is holy. All of the great decisions of life come out of the heart ("Kardia").

MATTHEW 25:14

For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods.

And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey.

Then he that had received the five talents went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents.

And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two. But he that had received one went and digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.

After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them. And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained beside them five talents more.

His lord said unto him, Well don, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.

Financial Assistance Available

Medical treatment for leukemia often drains the patient's financial resources.

The Wahington Chapter of the Leukemia Society of America., Inc., can help.

A financial assistance program, covering such things as drugs, processing charges for blood transfusions, transportation for treatment and some x-ray therapy is available.

"Many people aren't aware we offer this patient-aid program," said Chapter President Fred Rogers.

The program is supported entirely by public contributions and is for all leukemia, lymphoma, myeloma and Hodgkin's disease patients.

In addition the Leukemia Society office frequently can refer patients to other sources of help within the community.

Considered a supplementary package, the aid is limited to out-patient expenditures not covered by other sources.

Besides funding this project, the leukemia Society has a current committment of more than $8000,000 designated for leukemia-related research in Washington.

For more information on leukemia, the patient-aid program or the search for a cure being done here in Washington, write the Leukemia Society, 1411 Fourth Avenue, Suite 901, Seattle, WA. 98101 or call 628-0777.

Tony Brown's Comments

Don't Blame Whites For This One

Ignorance is the primary opposition to the higher education the nation's Black youth and the primary reason that BLACK COLLEGE DAY celebrations will be held on the last Monday of this September and every September.

Never let anyone tell you that the problem with Black people is white people. The problem of Black people is ignorance--believe me.

How do I know? Michael Meyers? He is a racial apologist, a colored-Negro whose racial theories passionately advocate the superiority of White people and the inferiority of Black people--or anything they touch.

He spends his adult life denigrating everything that Black people stand for. He is also a colored man who finds great favor among the editorial elite of the white establishment media.

Just a few months ago, he was invited on the editorial pages of the nation's largest newspaper, THE WALL STREET JOURNAL, to attack and misrepresent the leadership and goals of the NAACP.

The Journal announced that he was director of the late Roy Wilkins Foundation. He was not then nor has he ever held such a position.

But then again, Meyers has never let the facts stand in the way of his philosophy.

He offered more hyperbole and rhetorical tap dancing in the New York Daily News last week. This time, his enemy was the nation's 114 historically Black Colleges, from which 80 percent of the nation's Black professionals have come.

Ironically, the NEWS was itself attacked in that day's NEW YORK TIMES by the Federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission of the Reagan Administration. The agency sued the DAILY NEWS, charging that the country's second largest paper had discriminated against Black reporters.

The government said that the NEWS "pays Black news employees less than Whites and denies them merit raises, promotion and opportunity for transfer," reported the TIMES. Arthur Wible, president of the DAILY NEWS, said he was "surprised and disappointed." Those were my exact words when I saw the utterances and half-truths of Meyers on the editorial page of the NEWS.

Meyer was made to sound like he had been the number two person at the NAACP by THE news--the former assistant national director of the NAACP." To my knowledge, there is no such position at the NAACP.

Benjamin Hooks has a variety of assistants; Meyers was on record as being a researcher and planner. However, it is a fact that he and the NAACP have parted ways.

Another fact is that he is to the Black higher education community what Vanessa Williams is to the Miss American Pagent. I also know for a fact that in 1980 Meyers was busy embarassing Hooks and the NAACP by doing, represented as an official of that group, what he so distastefully does now for Whites.

He said four years ago: "There is no defense of either a 'White'or a Black school except in the context of an undemocratic, racist society.

Separate schools cannot be'equal'. Black and White schools cannot be morally of legally justifiable.'

Of course, no one was making a case for separate schools. The movement to preserve Black colleges was a part of a broader move to graduate more blacks from college. This includes more Blacks on white campuses.

Segregation was never the issue and the courts upheld this position in the Adams case. Moreover, Congress has since made BLACK COLLGE DAY a national obserance.

Four years later, the employed pariah of the Black community returns beating the same dead horse. In the space provided by the DAILY NEWS, he says that Blacks attending Black colleges are being sold "racial chauvinism and by "marching and singing for Black college survival"(he was refering to BLACK COLLEGE DAY), they openly denounce integration..."

He is consume with "integration." One wonders why, with all of the integration around, he is not integrated into Wall street, the New York Daily News, Notre Dame for Catholics or Yeshiva for Jews? And of cource, he will call each of these bastions of power for WASPs, Catholics and jews "integrated" because they are white.

So he is really consumed with being with White people. He and the defrocked Miss America also have that in common. At least, you would expect a good colored like Meyers to at least work for somebody White.

Black colleges are, he continues, "relics of the segregation years without a unique or compelling educational mission." These schools alone are responsible for graduating over half of all Blacks from college each year while only 20 percent of Blacks attend them. The 114 Black schools graduate more Blacks than 3,200 White ones. That's not a "unique" role?

He attacks civil rights leaders and graduates of Black colleges for supporting the schools that made their success possible. "Integration can work, if tried," he asserts.

Meyers and people like Meyers, Black and White, are ignorant of the facts and the reality of a free pluralistic society.

A quality education, not race, is the civil rights issue here. Dr. W.E.B. DuBois, a founder of the NAACP, reminded us that the Black child "needs neither segregated schools nor mixed schools. What he needs is education."

The National Organization of Black College Alumni, Inc. is identifying alumni from all of the 114 colleges. It is also spreading details for implementation of the annual BLACK COLLEGE DAY.

Answer White racism as practiced by Blacks and defend and build what is our birthright--as all other groups do. Write Dr. Jean Gilbert, National Organization of Black College Alumni, 4 Washington Square Village, New York, NY 10012 or call (212) 923-7726 and help.

Remember BLACK COLLEGE DAY.

Oh, My Aching Back

If you're like a lot of people, you may have occasional or persistant back pain and wonder what caused it.

You try to think of an incident in which you have strained your back, and come up with nothing. But there must be some reason why you have back pains.

The truth is that even the simplist of incidents may be the cause, such as reaching high on a shelf to get something, or stooping suddenly to pick up something that has fallen. Or maybe you need some tips on good posture.

Whatever the cause, the problem may be that your spinal column is out of alignment. No pain-killing drug can cure the cause. It can dull the pain for a while and give you temporary relief. But if your back is out of alignment, the pain will probably not go away unless you get the treatment you need.

Chiropractic specializes in the detection of spinal misalignment and correction without the use of drugs or surgery in most cases.

Don't delay treatment when help is reddily available. No system can be more depressing than persistant back pain.

Yours for better Health From the Office Of Dr. Gordon Rody, Tacoma Chiropractor- 917 S. 10th St. 627-7999.
